

ADR TRAINING

This is a vocational training course for those who need to carry dangerous goods on road vehicles. Both UK and European Law requires any individual involved in the movement of dangerous goods by road to be trained and hold a vocational training qualification issued by the DVLA.

The Vocational Training Qualification is only issued once a driver has successfully completed an approved course and passed the relevant exams.

There are 9 classes of ADR dangerous goods and they are:

- Class 1 - Explosives - which is not a common class
- Class 2 - Gases
- Class 3 - Flammable Liquids
- Class 4 - Flammable Solids
- Class 5 - Oxidising Agents
- Class 6 - Toxic
- Class 7 - Radioactives - which is not a common class
- Class 8 - Corrosives
- Class 9 – Miscellaneous

Our courses exclude classes 1 and 7.

There are 2 options of doing your ADR Vocational License and they are:-

Option 1 – ADR Core and 7 classes of packages (2 – 6 and 8 – 9)

Option 2 – ADR Core and 7 classes of packages (2 – 6 and 8 – 9) plus tanks

Option 1 is a 4 day course inclusive of exams and Option 2 is a 5 day course inclusive of exams.
